About MAFS:

Metropolitan Asian Family Services (MAFS) is a multicultural, multi-ethnic nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization founded in 1992. For more than three decades, it has supported immigrant communities across Chicagoland by providing comprehensive social services to seniors and families from India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, the Middle East, and Eastern Europe. What began in 1992 as a one-room office in Des Plaines has grown into a network of 11 centers serving Chicago, Niles, Naperville, Carol Stream, Schaumburg, Vernon Hills, Orland Park, Elgin, and Roselle.

Each year, MAFS serves more than 10,000 individuals and families across Chicagoland through programs such as nutrition, access to public benefits, energy assistance, adult English literacy, senior counseling, immigration and citizenship help, translation and interpretation, computer literacy, and health programs. By helping clients navigate public systems and needed resources, MAFS strengthens immigrant communities economically, socially, and emotionally while promoting a more inclusive society.

The Vision: Our Shared Impact:

- At MAFS, we envision a community where language, culture, and age are never barriers to care.
- Through culturally responsive services, we help immigrant families and seniors access essential resources, improve their health, and live with dignity and independence.
- By addressing isolation, expanding access to healthcare, and guiding individuals through complex systems, we create pathways to stability and well-being.
- Our approach is rooted in trust, cultural understanding, and long-term impact within the communities we serve.
- By partnering with us, you support a trusted organization that reduces health disparities, strengthens communities, and ensures vulnerable populations can
